

Feedback for Group 6 Napkin Visualization

The following napkin drawings are rough sketches for the visualizations we would like to add into our report/dashboard in order to answer the exploratory questions. The figure below includes the example graphs we would like to use along with the questions we are attempting to answer with the graphs.

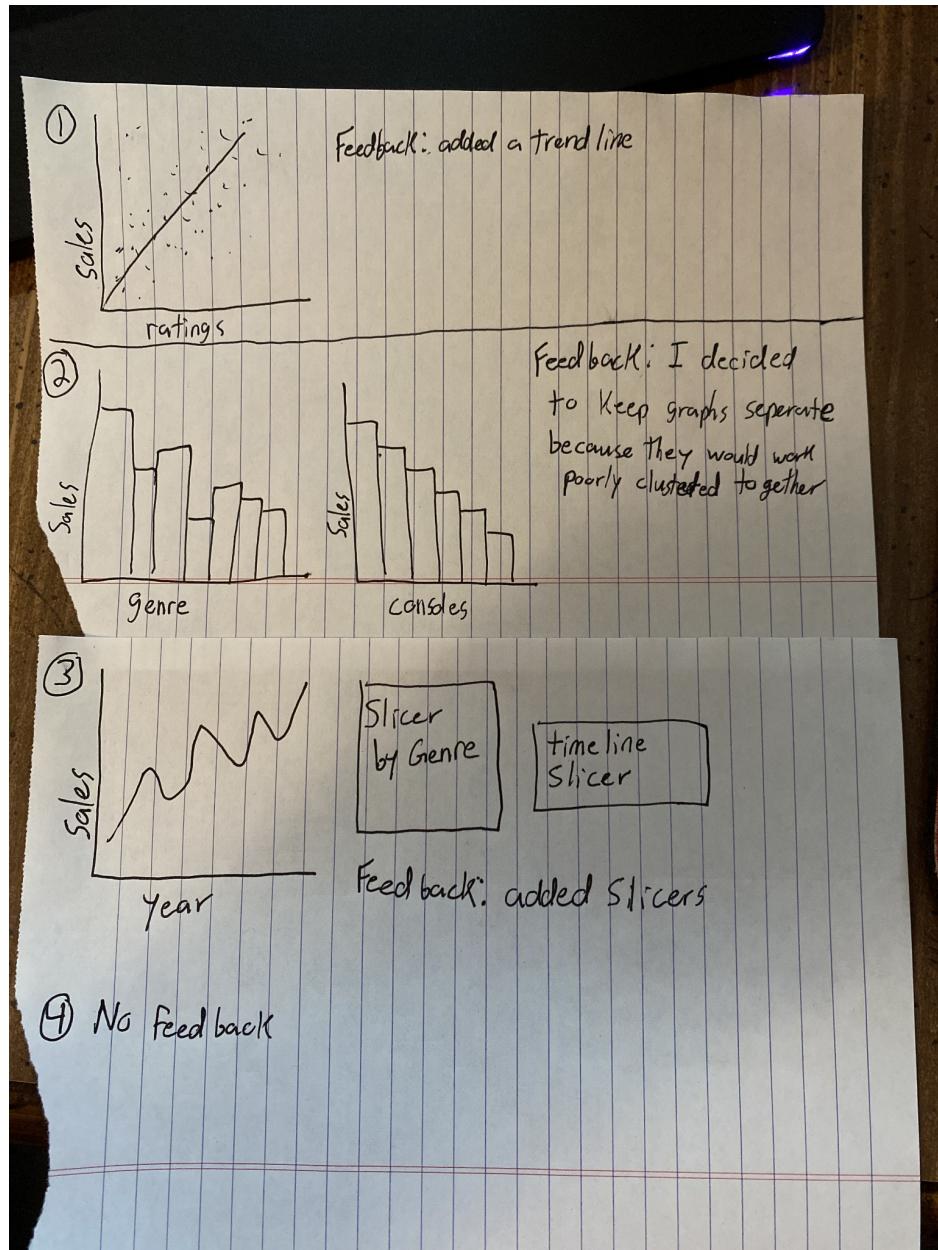

One person's feedback:

- 1) consider adding a trendline if there's a correlation there
- 2) Maybe a clustered bar chart to see both sets of data on one chart, unless their values are dramatically different?
- 3) I think that works fine
- 4) Looks reasonable

Second person's feedback:

1. I think there needs to be a trendline
2. I like it, I think it needs to stay as two different graphs since genre and console wont work well together in a cluster.
3. If you're looking at video game sales over time, when is this starting? Might be interesting to have a slicer for the genre.
4. I like what you're going for there, I'm interested to see the ML results.

Updated Napkin Visualizations:

Notes: I added a trendline, and some slicers to the visualizations in accordance with the feedback given by some of my peers
